ARMY OFFICERS NEEDED

The army estimates it will need 30,000 additional officers—particularly in the grades of lieutenant and captain—between now and next June 30.

For the same period, the air force is asking for 10,000 non-flying officers.

Procurement of qualified officers to this extent in peacetime is a most challenging task.

Expansion of the army and air force has created many openings for reserve officers and former Second World War officers who volunteer for active duty. There are opportunities also for qualified veterans and civilians who want to become officers.

Today there are more ways to earn commissions than ever before. This fact is not generally known, and should be of interest particularly to the former officers and enlisted men of the recent war.

Under a new plan, qualified veterans of any of the armed forces and enlisted men now serving in the army, between the ages of 19 and 32, who have completed two years or more of college, can apply for immediate commissions as second lieutenants in the officers' reserve corps, followed by a 12-week training course in a branch service school. Successful applicants are given two years of active army duty.

Second World War officers not holding reserve commissions may apply for extended active duty tours provided they concurrently submit an application for a reserve commission. Applications for extended active duty are considered from lieutenants and captains who are under age 47.

How well the army and air force carry out their occupation duties and help preserve the peace depends, to a large degree, on the ability and leadership of the officer corps.

TRYING A NEW APPROACH

Defense Secretary Forrestal is again having his say about the 70-group Air Force which Congress endorsed over his objections. He also has his eye on the Navy's carrier program, which includes the mammoth 65,000-ton super-carrier. He says it will be necessary to trim both budgets if the nation is to stay within its $15,000,000,000 defense budget. He also thinks it will be necessary to provide some funds for foreign military aid.

Forrestal's views were expressed a few hours after his return from a European trip during which he conferred with U. S. military and State Department officials in Britain, France and Germany. Presumably, his statement regarding military aid refers to the Western Union European Nations, and it might include China. If so, it may herald an entirely new approach to the nation's defense problems.

During the argument last spring on the 70 group Air Force, Forrestal warned that this rearmament project, and others under consideration, might work serious economic dislocations. He added that price controls and allocations of materials would be necessary. Senator Lodge, during the debate on the Air Force question, stated, in effect, that Russia, by keeping us angry enough, could sit back and watch us bleed ourselves to death economically with an ever-increasing preparedness program.

Forrestal's casual reference to the rearmament of the Western Union may carry much significance. If it is possible to rearm the West without hamstringing our own economy, then the United States will have won something of a victory in the cold war.

QUETICO-SUPERIOR AREA DESCRIBED IN PAMPHLETS

Miss Frances Bailey, librarian of the Jacksonville public library, announces receipt of new reference material on the Quetico-Superior Area of northern Minnesota and adjoining northwestern Ontario. Two pamphlets were received both issued by the President's Quetico-Superior Committee.

One is a facts booklet outlining with accompanying maps, the details of the Quetico-Superior program, and the other is entitled "Wildlife in the Quetico-Superior Country." The latter carries a foreword by Lyle F. Watts, Chief of the U. S. Forest Service.

Tips On Getting Up In The Morning

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK.—(P)—The biggest need today is a pleasant way to get up in the morning.

In this respect England is the most civilized country on the globe. There the traveler is awakened by a rap on the door, and somebody brings a cup of hot tea in and sets it by his bed.

After ten or fifteen minutes of sipping this relaxing brew, a man is reconciled to the dismal prospect of rising and facing a rueful world.

I tried to adopt this pleasant practice in my own household. But after the first four days Frances waned one morning and said:

"Well, rover boy, you've been pampered long enough. It's your turn to make the tea today."

Helpless in Kitchen
That ended that. "I'm so helpless in the kitchen I can't boil water without burning it."

The modern alarm clock, the poor man's substitute for the sunrise, in any form is the most intolerable gadget contrived by a machine-worshiping age. It is far worse than a hammer blow on the head. Once I bought a Swiss musical alarm clock, thinking this would ease the wear and tear on jangled nerves.

It played the "Blue Danube." The first week or so it wasn't bad. After that it slowly began to instill a collective nausea, so that today if I hear a waltz at any hour, day or night, I have the sensation of a workhorse undergoing the dry heaves. Somehow Strauss and the cold gray dawn don't go together any better than lavender and old snuff.

Hundreds of ways have been devised to get up on the right side of the bed in the morning. But I don't know of any that work well.

Some Leave Radio On

I know of people who go to sleep with a pot of coffee on a hot plate by their bedside. I know others who leave their radios turned on or are called by telephone. They all still hate to get up.

The most ingenious contrivance I know of was rigged up by a screwball friend. He tied upside down on his bedside a vacuum bottle full of hot coffee. Hanging from it was a tube with a clamp on the end.

When he woke up, my friend would reach up a drowsy hand, put the tube in his mouth, flip back the clamp and lie there peacefully drinking the life-giving fluid. But now he's back on alarm clocks.

"One morning the stopper came out of the bottle," he explained grimly. "Did you ever get woke up by a hot coffee shower?"

At a party the other night I was complaining about the daily battle I had getting out of bed.

The Diaper Method Works
"My husband had the same trouble," said a pretty young matron, "but I found a way to get him up and to work on time."

"Yes?"
"Well, I had to get up first to change the baby," she said. "One morning I accidentally laid the diaper on the pillow beside my husband. He got up immediately."

"Then I started putting the diaper on the pillow deliberately. My husband never was late after that. That worked for a long time, but now I am having the same old trouble with him."

"What happened?"
"Our baby," said the lady, "is growing up."

Wooden Fence Backstops the 'Iron Curtain'

After gathering firewood, these youngsters in Babelsberg, in the Soviet zone of Germany, carefully skirt the high fence isolating dwelling of Russian military government officials. Fences like this complete Moscow's non-fraternization, segregation policy, designed to protect Soviet personnel from "contamination" by Western ideas through casual contact with democratic-minded Germans.

Miss Shirley Floberg Weds William Haycraft

Franklin Church Scene Of Pretty Nuptial Rites

Vows of marriage were exchanged by Miss Shirley Floberg, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Kiley, 334 West College avenue, and William Haycraft, son of Mrs. Stella Haycraft of Franklin, in a lovely single ring ceremony which took place Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in the Sacred Heart church at Franklin.

The vows were received by the Rev. Father Michael Kearns, who was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed. During the Mass, Miss Constance Ryan and Howard Walker sang "Panis Angelicus" by Franck. "Ave Marie" by Schubert and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" were also sung by Mr. Walker. The accompanist was Mrs. Ann Ryan.

Miss Mary Alice Gordon was maid of honor. The best man was Joe Whalen. Francis Hermes and Harold Johnson served as ushers.

Escorted by Grandfather

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, George Bennett, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in the traditional gown of white tulle and satin. The gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, sleeves pointed over the hands, a torso waistline accented by a row of scallops and a full skirt which terminated in a chapel train.

The three-tiered veil, worn with blusher, was held in place with a tiara accented with satin bows. She carried a white prayer book, topped with an orchid and tied with a shower of sweet peas.

Yellow net over tulle fashioned the gown of the bride attendant. The gown was styled with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a shoulder-length veil of yellow net and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums and white carnations, tied with a large bow of pale green satin.

Receive Guests After Ceremony

Following the ceremony, a reception was given at the bride's home, 927 South Clay avenue. For receiving the guests, the bride's mother wore a gray dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose an aqua dress, with accessories of black. Both wore corsages of red roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the couple and served to the guests by the Misses Maxine and Donna Floberg, sisters of the bride. Mrs. Marguerite Heavner, aunt of the bride, and Miss Helen Heavner, the bride's cousin.

As the couple departed on a wedding trip to Houston, Texas, the bride was wearing a blue suit, complemented with black accessories and the orchid carried at her wedding.

Mrs. Haycraft was graduated from Jacksonville High school in 1947 and has been employed at the Illinois Telephone company. Her husband was graduated from Routh High school with the class of 1945 and has been engaged in farming near Franklin.

The couple will reside on a farm near Franklin.

TUG OF WAR
For Your Long Distance Operator

Every now and then your Long Distance Operator has an exceedingly difficult time in getting two busy and elusive individuals together so that one can talk to the other. Did you ever realize that the toll line she uses in order to get these individuals together could have handled several useful conversations in the meantime? And perhaps there were waiting individuals who could have used the line more effectively. Here are some suggestions to help your Long Distance Operator make better use of our Long Distance lines

1. Don't leave the telephone immediately after placing a Long Distance call which is momentarily delayed.
2. Give the Operator the distant party's telephone number. If you know it, and, if not, the address. Be as specific on your Long Distance calls as you are on the address of a letter.
3. Stay on the line if so requested by your Long Distance Operator.
4. Use a Station-to-Station Call if that is the type of service you want. Some people place a Person-to-Person Call to an individual and if not in, agree to speak to anyone. Station-to-Station serves as well and usually costs less.
5. Avoid the busy hours from 9:00 to 11:00 in the morning. There is more chance for your Long Distance Operator to give you "hold the line" service at other than peak hours.

Your Long Distance Operator will appreciate your Co-operation.

Until every home is safe from this disease, no home can be entirely safe. The war against this disease is everybody's fight. The spread of it can be stopped only when all sufferers are found and treated, before they can infect others.

Waltz into Darkness

BY WILLIAM IRISH

Copyright by William Irish—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Well-to-do Louis Durand carries on a correspondence with a Miss Julia Russell, whom he has never seen. She comes from St. Louis to New Orleans by boat to marry him. She is young, ravishing, blond. Within a month of their marriage, she withdraws $50,000 from his bank account and disappears. Investigation proves her an impostor. Durand retains Walter Dornan, detective, to prove that a crime was committed against the real Julia Russell, who vanished on the boat trip to New Orleans. A year later, Durand is alone in St. Louis. He makes the acquaintance of a Colonel Worth in a hotel bar, accidentally discovers that the colonel's niece, Miss Castle, is the woman he knew as Julia. A race gets him into her hotel room. She is terrified. He tells her he is going to take her back to New Orleans to face a murder charge.

XXVI

CLINGING in desperation to the wings of his coat, she dropped to her knees before him.

"It wasn't I. I didn't do it. He must have done something to her. For I never saw her again. But what it was, I don't know. I didn't see it done. He only came to me afterward and said she'd had a mishap, and I was afraid to question him any further than—"

"He?" he said sardonically.

"The man I was with. The man on the boat I was with."

"Your paramour," he said tonelessly, and tried not to let her see him swallow the bitter lump that knotted his throat.

He dropped back into a chair, pulled at his collar as if exhausted. She was at his feet, penitent, abject, her hands to the arm of the chair he was in.

"No!" she said strenuously. "No, he wasn't! You can believe it if you choose, but from first to last he wasn't. It was purely a working arrangement. And no one else ever was either, before him. I've learned to care for myself since I've been about in the world, and whether I've done things that were right, or done things that were wrong, I've been no man's but yours, Lou. No man's, until I married you."

He wondered why he felt so much lighter than a moment ago, and warned himself sternly he mustn't; and in spite of that, did "Julia," he drawled reproachfully, as if in utter disbelief. "You ask me to believe that? Julia, Julia."

"Don't call me Julia," she murmured remorsefully. "That isn't my name."

"Have you a name?"

She moistened her lips. "Bonny," she admitted. "Bonny Castle."

He gave a nod of agreement that was a leer in pantomime. "To the colonel, Bonny. To me, Julia. To Billy, something else. To the man on the boat, something else."

He turned his face from her in disgust, then looked back again. "Tell me about him. The man on the boat."

"He was a professional gambler. He worked the river boats. The girl who had been his partner had quit him to marry a plantation owner—or so he told me—and he was looking for someone to take her place. He offered me a share of his profits, if I would join with him."

She waved her hand. "I had been with a troupe of traveling actors before that. This was but a different form of acting, after all."

"What was his name, what was he called?" he said.

"What does it matter? His name was false, like mine was. On every trip it changed. It had to, as a precaution. Once it was McLarin. Once it was Rideau. I doubt that I ever knew his real one, in all the time we were together. I doubt that he did himself, any more. He's gone now. Don't ask me to remember."

She's trying to protect him, he thought. "You must have called him something."

She gave a smile of sour reminiscence. "Brother dear." So that others could hear me. That was part of my role. We traveled as brother and sister. I insisted on that. We each had our own cabin. "And he agreed." It was a statement of disbelief.

"At first he objected. His former partner, it seems—well, that's neither here nor there. I showed him that it was better even for his own purposes that way, and when I had made him see that he agreed readily enough. Business came first with him, always. He had a sweetheart in every river town, he could forego one more. You see, I acted as the—attractant, the magnet, for him. My part was to drop my handkerchief on the deck, or collide with someone in a narrow passageway, or even lose my bearings and have to seek directions of someone. There is no harm in gentlemen striking up a respectful acquaintance with a man's unmarried sister. Whereas had I been thought his wife—or something else—they would have been deterred. Then, as propriety dictated, I would introduce my brother to them at the earliest opportunity. And the game would take place soon afterward."

"You played?"

"Never. Only a shameless hussy would play cards with men."

"You were present, though."

"I replenished their drinks. Flirted a little to keep them in good humor. I sided with them against my brother when there was a dispute."

"You signalled."

Her shoulders tipped slightly, in philosophic resignation. "That's what I was there for."

His arms were folded, in the attitude of one passing grim judgment—or rather having already irrevocably passed it. He tapped his fingers restlessly against the sides of his own arms.

"And what of Julia? The other Julia, the actual one?"

"I've come to that now," she murmured acquiescently.

Famous Cellist To Appear Here Friday Evening

Gregor Piatigorsky, cellist, will present the next concert of the MacMurray College series in the high school auditorium Friday evening, Dec. 3, at 8:15 p. m. He will be accompanied by Ralph Berkowitz, pianist.

The Russian-born virtuoso came to America in 1929. Since his arrival here, he has played more concerts in the United States and Canada than any other cellist.

At the age of six Piatigorsky began to study the cello under his father's instruction. Three years later, when circumstances forced the boy to support his family, he found his first job playing musical backgrounds at motion picture houses. His fame spread until, at the age of fifteen, he was appointed first cellist at the Imperial Opera in Moscow. He started giving his own concerts after he became a member of the string quartet of the Moscow Conservatory.

After enduring the hardships of the revolution, he crossed the border to Poland in 1921. Since then he has not returned to Russia, where his family still lives. His three brothers, two of whom are musicians, fought in the Red Army during the recent war.

The cello upon which he now performs his concerts, a Montagnan, was made in 1739. Valued at $30,000, it is a gift to the artist from an American, one of his closest friends. Among his collection of cellos is also a Stradivari, and he has a collection of seventeen bows, at least four of which are taken on every tour.

Piatigorsky has done much to bring the cello closer to the average music lover. Besides appearing in the motion picture "Carnegie Hall," where he plays the beloved cello number "The Swan," he has made many Victor and Columbia recordings. Hoping to encourage young musicians, he has established at Chicago University the Piatigorsky scholarship fund for American composers.

announced Saturday that Boy Scouts of Jacksonville will cooperate with the dairies in collecting milk bottles on Saturday, Dec. 4.

The Boy Scouts, as a civic service to the community, will call on homes milk bottles ready for collection by Saturday.

Citizens who have a large number of bottles are asked to call 378, the Scout office. Scouts will call and tles are to be placed at the curb Saturday morning.

The milk bottles will go to the bottle exchange, where they will be sorted and returned to the dairy to which they belong.

According to the local milk dealers, a shortage of bottles could cause a shortage in milk deliveries.

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS,

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results.
You need not guess—you will see facts. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth. Nature's Laboratory.
Contains NO drugs, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

Amazing Results
YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their mineralous water. We have all heard of the won-derous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend
Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it.
Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the precious value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We wish to state that after selling GEO-MINERAL for eight months, this product has broken all sales records store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C.

"Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds."

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now.

Kaiser's Ghost Walks Streets

Berlin. — (AP) — The ghost of Kaiser Bill still hovers over Berlin. There is Kronprinzallee, a wide boulevard named for former crown prince Wilhelm. And Hohenzollernstrasse, another broad street commemorating the house that ruled Germany from Bismarck to the Versailles treaty. There is a Prinzregenten street which needs little in the way of translation, a "Kaiser allee" and a "Kaiser platz."

And a "Kaiser Friedrich" street. These names lived through a dawning Weimar republic that lost the confidence of all Germans and was bootled out. They lived through even Adolf Hitler.

"These names of the past make one think of the good old days," says an oldtime Berliner. "Regardless of one's political convictions, Germany's best days were under the Kaisers. Heaven help the government that tries to change those names."

It would seem logical that changes would be made in the Soviet sector of Berlin where the Communists rule and monarchical ideas in any sense are supposed to be heresy. But even there the Kaiser platges go on being Kaiser platzes.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(P)—Hogs, cattle and sheep ended a week of advancing prices by being quoted nominally on the livestock market today.

Good advances in wholesale pork prices supported gains of $1.00 to $1.25 in hogs this week. All interests took an active part in the trade, which the agriculture department said was the most dependable of the current marketing season.

In the wholesale pork market, pork loins advanced $2.00 to $4.00, Boston butts $1.00 to $2.00, fresh hams $3.00 and smoked skinned hams $1.00 to $2.00.

Part of the advance in cattle was traced to lower receipts, both here and at other places around the market circle. Choice steers and yearlings gained as much as $1.00. Some prime cattle, fed along with livestock show animals, brought a peak of $40.

Slaughter lambs closed 50 cents to $1.00 higher. Best prices were paid at the end of the week in an active market.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 27.—(P)—The stock market finished another losing week on a steady note today.

In the usual slow Saturday trading gains and losses just about offset each other. Changes either way were mostly in fractions.

Even small declines, though, were enough to put some issues at new lows for the year or longer. Chrysler and Chesapeake & Ohio, for instance, at one time hit bottom for 1948.

On Wednesday the market dropped to the lowest average level since mid-March. Since then there has been considerable fluctuation among individual issues but not much change in the overall picture.

Today's market was largely professional. Tax selling was probably the biggest drag on the price level.

Business news, including another batch of highly favorable railroad operating results for October, was largely ignored.

Selling at higher prices a good part of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Studebaker, Firestone, Southern California Edison, and Anaconda Copper.

Ahead in the curb were Babcock & Wilcox, Humble Oil, Imperial Oil, Pantepec Oil, and Reed Roller Bit. Bonds moved narrowly.

GRAINS RALLY AFTER SUFFERING SETBACK IN EARLY TRADING

Chicago, Nov. 27.—(P)—Grains rallied today after suffering a sinking spell during early trading.

Wheat led the late upturn, which pushed prices above the previous close on buying which came in part from houses with southwestern connections. There also was a good deal of short-covering prior to the week-end.

The initial sell-off, which hit corn hardest, was in response to developments in the maritime strike. Overnight 2,000 Brooklyn longshoremen rejected an agreement to settle this dispute. This raised the possibility the entire union membership might turn down the settlement, thereby prolonging the strike.

A steamer from Fort William, Canada, was reported unloading 185,000 bushels of Canadian rye here today. It was also said another steamer with a larger cargo was on the way here.

Wheat closed 1-1 1/2 higher, December $2.39 1/2, corn was 1/2 to 1 cent higher, December $1.45-45 1/2, oats were 1-1 1/2 higher, December 84 1/2-3, rye was 1/2 higher, December $1.77 1/2, soybeans were 1-3/4 higher, December $2.74 1/2, and lard was 8 cents lower to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $19.05-19.02.

Car load receipts wheat 7, corn 253; oats 18 and soybeans 9.

California U. Sure To Give Waldorf Better Contract

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 27.—(P)—Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf hasn't got that raise yet—but the University of California isn't overlooking his piloting of the Golden Bears into the Rose Bowl.

Athletic Director Brutus Hamilton said reports Waldorf had a new and better contract were "prematuring" but promised "we'll take care of him when the time comes."

Somebody just misunderstood, Hamilton said, referring to informal remarks he had recently made.

Three weeks ago the university renewed the one-year contract of Waldorf's assistants for 1949 and increased their salaries.

Hamilton said the university doesn't make a practice of announcing salary agreements with coaches.

It was reliably reported that Waldorf came to California two years ago on a two-year contract and that last year, a successful season, he was given a new three-year pact.

Coming here after 12 years at Northwestern, Waldorf has led the Bears to the Rose Bowl for the first time since 1937. They meet their coach's old school, Northwestern, Jan. 1.

Spinner Play Used First By Arkansas U. 38 Years Ago

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 27.—(P)—Football's famous spinner play was "invented" entirely by accident at the University of Arkansas 38 years ago.

Hugo Bezdek, the coach credited with developing the spinner magic, let the secret out at a reunion with his Razorback athletes of the golden 1908-1912 era.

Bezdek, who after starting his career at Arkansas gained further fame as a college coach at Oregon and Penn State and as a promoter at Cleveland, explained:

"Our 1911 team at Arkansas had a play on which the quarterback handed off the ball on a tackle-around. In one game, the quarterback, Boyd Cyfert, now a resident of Washington, D. C., turned to hand the ball to the tackle, but the tackle had started too quickly and already had run past Cyfert."

"Cyfert, not knowing what to do next, spun on around to face the line of scrimmage, spotted an open field and ran for a touchdown. It was all an accident but the spinner play hasn't been stopped entirely yet."

May Ban Player From Sports For Hitting Official

Dayton, O., Nov. 27.—(P)—Don C. Mills, Dayton University football player, may be banned from all school athletics for striking an official at the Dayton-Chattanooga football game Thanksgiving Day.

The director, Harry C. Baujan, said he would recommend "Mills be dropped from all athletic participation" at a meeting Monday with the Rev. Charles L. Collins, chairman of the faculty athletic committee, and Coach Joe Gavin. The meeting was called to decide what disciplinary action should be taken against the player.

Mills, a junior, was escorted from the game by his own teammates after head linesman Frank Jones was struck twice in the face. Jones was to leave the game after the incident.

The punching came after Dayton was ruled offside in an extra point try. Chattanooga won the game 21-6.

Lowly Middies Ruin Army's Perfect Year With 21 To 21 Tie

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Navy's Army with its platoons down today and spoiled the Cadet's perfect season with a 21-21 tie in an unbelievable turn of football fortunes.

It was a sweet-tasting moral victory for the Middiesmen, beaten 12 times in a row—eight this season—and held in such poor esteem today that the Cadets were solid three touchdowns favorites.

The amazing deadlock was fashioned with hard, teeth-rattling football before a sell-out crowd of 102,381, including President Truman, quite an upsurge in his own right.

Significantly, the president and his party, including Mrs. Truman and Margaret, sat on the side of the underdog sailors and watched as the Middies stalled for a quick touchdown in the opening period and rallied twice to hold one of the nation's great gridiron powers to a standstill.

It was Navy's day as host to have the president and it was evident almost from the start that this was Navy's day in the long and colorful service game series that now has seen army win 26 games, Navy 19 and four wind up in ties.

The contest was less than six minutes old when Pete Williams, a phantom-hipped Midshipman from Miami, Fla., took a lateral from Reeves Baysinger and dashed 59 yards to the Army 13.

In three plays Baysinger was across with a Navy score and the packed stadium braced itself for the battle that it knew was in the offing.

Precisionist Army bounced back with two touchdowns in the second period, set up on identical pass plays from Arnold Gallifa to Dave Parrish.

Navy tied the score at 14-14 with a Baysinger-sparked march in the third period only to see Army go ahead again with a touchdown in the first minute of the final quarter.

The Cadet's seven-point advantage at this stage looked tremendous until midway of the period. Then the Midshipmen launched a land drive that wouldn't be denied.

In short, vicious tussles, Fullback Bill Hawkins and Halfback Jimmy Green started pounding out yardage through Army's tiring line.

The Midshipmen moved 50 yards downfield, Hawkins scoring the tying touchdown from the eight yard line with five minutes to play.

Army took the next kickoff and desperately smashed to Navy's 35-yard line. But there the Middies' stout line pushed back the charge and the game ended.

Navy had a surprisingly large edge in statistics. The Middies rolled up 11 first downs to 11 for Army and picked up 287 yards on the ground compared with 205 for Army, the leading rushing team in the nation.

One of Army's outstanding offensive stars—Bobby Jack Stuart—suffered a groin injury early in the contest and was removed from play. His speedy teammate (Gil Stephenson, didn't see as much action as the halfbacks of the No. 2 and No. 3 platoons.

Navy's first quarter touchdown followed an 88-yard drive, the biggest contribution being Williams' 56-yard run, the fanciest individual play of the day.

Several times during the game Williams was trapped by Army tacklers but he wigged loose to the 13. Baysinger scored from the one.

Fullback Roger Drew kicked the first of his three important extra points.

Its vaunted running game dulled by the hard-charging Navy line.

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The Army football team was suffering acute dysentery when it played Navy in the annual service classic, it was disclosed today.

The report of the dysentery, which was the result of a Thanksgiving dinner at West Point, appeared in the early editions of the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin.

Coach Earl (Red) Blaik of the unbeaten cadet team, told the Associated Press that the dysentery "in no way played a part in the outcome of the game or in the play of the Army team."

Oklahoma, North Carolina To Play In Sugar Bowl

New Orleans, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Oklahoma and North Carolina will meet in the 15th annual Sugar Bowl football game here on New Year's Day.

The teams were announced tonight at Sugar Bowl headquarters here after the Carolina Tarheels had finished an unbeaten, once-tied season by beating Virginia 34-12, and Oklahoma's Sooners had won their ninth straight victory, 15-15 over Oklahoma A. and M.

In matching Carolina's Southern conference champions with the Big Seven titleholders, the annual classic came up with the two highest rated teams of the season in terms of national rankings to play in any bowl.

North Carolina was rated fourth in the Associated Press poll of the past week, and Oklahoma sixth.

Those were a shade better than the Rose Bowl participants—California at No. 5 and Northwestern at No. 7. The only teams rated above these four, Michigan, Notre Dame and Army, are not bowl "eligibles" this year.

Crimson Cagers Prep For Initial Conflict Tuesday Evening

Youth and inexperience are the problems confronting Coach Bob Kraushaar as he preps his Jacksonville high school cagers for their season's opener against the Virginia Redheads Tuesday night on the David Prince boards.

Stan Spotts is the only returning letterman from last year's fine quintet which reached the sectional tournament before bowing to Beardstown in the '47-'48 campaign. He will graduate in January and won't be around for the state playoffs next March.

Youngsters Show Promise
Kraushaar states this will be a developing year for the Crimson. Several freshmen and sophomores show promise, and should unfold into fine prospects before too many games have been played. Bill Williams is the most prominent of the youngsters. He's a freshman and was named on the probable starting lineup of the Crimson for their initial encounter. Hazel, another first year man, shows promise, and is the tallest man on the squad, measuring 6 ft. 2 in. He will be a great asset on a team plagued by lack of height, should his ball handling and shooting eye come around in expected form. Flynn, Sabatini and Campbell are other frosh of whom great things are expected by the Jacksonville coaching staff.

Starting Lineup Names
Besides Spotts and Williams, Kraushaar names Jack Chapman, Dick Gotshall, and Gene Todd for his starting five in the Virginia conflict. Trotter, a senior, will also see plenty of action at a forward post in this first game. Chapman is teamed at forward with Williams. He's a sophomore with a good eye for the hoop and is fairly adept at working under the basket.

Dick Gotshall will start at the pivot post. This is his third year of action on the J.H.S. squad and he'll be expected to carry the bulk of the work at center. Gene Todd is the only other senior on the starting five, and will pair off at guard with Spotts.

Kraushaar Cuts Squad
Approximately 130 players reported for the first practice session, but cramped space in the cracker-box gymnasium has forced the coaches to cut the squad to 25. Even these few, Coach Kraushaar says, are hampered by the close quarters furnished by the gym, and practice sessions are invariably limited to only the regulars, creating a problem in the development of his reserves.

The Bulldogs opened the game with their most coordinated running and passing attack of the year. Rauch passed seven times in the first half with the damp, slippery ball and five were to their receivers for 66 yards. Gene Lorenzo was the receiver on three passes which helped set up two touchdowns.

Floyd Reid went around end for the first score and Johnny Tiltiski bucked for four yards and the second. Georgia led 14-0 at the half.

The third Georgia score came shortly after the opening of the second half. McCall went over for the Bulldogs.

The first Yellow Jacket touchdown came in the third quarter when Tackle Clay Matthews blocked a Georgia kick and End George Broadnax covered the ball in the end zone.

The fourth Georgia touchdown was a thriller. Bulldog Gen McCall returned a Tech kick 53 yards for the score.

The best work by Tech was midway in the last quarter. The Jackets drove 61 yards and Bowen capped the drive with an end run for the touchdown.

SMU Puts On Last Minute Drive And Ties TCU 7 To 7

Dallas, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Southern Methodist rode with the passing arm of Gil Johnson to a 7-7 thriller against Texas Tech today, then heard its opponent in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1 would be the University of Oregon.

The mighty bomber passed and ran the Methodists 99 yards with less than two minutes to play and SMU closed out the southwest conference campaign undefeated.

Announcement that Oregon would be SMU's foe in the New Year's Day classic was made by Dan D. Rogers, chairman of the board of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, who said permission from the Pacific Coast Conference for the Webfoots to play in the bowl game had come at 3:30 p.m.

Today's game was spectacular. The clock showed a minute and forty-one seconds to go and the crowd of 67,000 was filling up of the Cotton Bowl as Gimlet Gil set his sights from the Southern Methodist one-yard line. Fighting Texas Christian had outplayed SMU badly and was leading 7-0.

Johnson passed to John Milam on the Southern Methodist 19. Some of the people leaving the stadium came back. Then Johnson, who never runs with the ball, took out around right end for 22 yards. All of the people leaving the stadium stitched. Next the great passer pitched to Dick McKissack on the Texas Christian 35, and then, as the clock showed 22 seconds to go, the ballish man with the whipcord arm faked back and passed to Milam down on the TCU two-yard stripe. Milam gathered it in and fell across the goal line with two Horned Frogs hanging onto him.

Dock Walker, playing today with an injured leg, kicked the ball through the goal posts.

Today's tie kept Southern Methodist undefeated in two years of Southwest Conference play.

Texas Christian scored its touchdown today in the second period. It came after Doyle Malone, Horned Frog Center, intercepted a Johnson pass on the Texas Christian 46. Dave Bloxom, Jack Archer and Little Lindy Berry, the outstanding back on the field today, rammed through and around the Mustang line to the SMU 27. Here Berry pitched a pass toward George Boal down on the Methodist 20-yard line. Boal missed it but interference was called. Bloxom got a yard at right end and Berry hit right guard for six. Berry then slashed over the same position for the touchdown. Homer Ludiker came in to kick the extra point.

Before today Tech had the best defensive record in college football but Georgia may have wrecked that record. The Bulldogs gained 259 yards rushing to only 62 for Tech.

Georgia was offensive master both on the ground and in the air. All-America quarterback candidate Johnny Rauch was the passing star and stocky Joe Geri the running master.

The Bulldogs opened the game with their most coordinated running and passing attack of the year. Rauch passed seven times in the first half with the damp, slippery ball and five were to their receivers for 66 yards. Gene Lorenzo was the receiver on three passes which helped set up two touchdowns.

Joe Hill Lands Berth On Little Nine Loop All-Star Grid Team

Joe Hill, Illinois College backfield ace was picked on the first team of the conference of Illinois Little Nine, chosen by the league coaches Nov. 27.

Joe, plagued by injuries a greater part of the season, was the workhorse of the hilltop backfield, consistently good for 8 to 10 yards every time he poked the mail. He was especially brilliant in his farewell local appearance against Elmhurst College on the JHS field, scoring three touchdowns as he said goodbye to Jacksonville football fans. Joe will graduate from IC at the end of the Spring term.

Wheaton College landed four players on the all-star team, and North Central and James Millikin each placed two.

Charles Schoenherr, Wheaton fullback; Norrie Cross, North Central center, and Don Schroyer, Millikin's halfback, were chosen for the second team.

The selections—

Here is the "fumblelist chart":
Ansel McCullough lost the ball to Captain Bill Fischer of Notre Dame on the Washington 24. John Panelli ripped 11 yards then sprinted the remaining 13 to score.

Brooks Biddle lost to Ed Hudak on the Huskies' 25 and after a five yard penalty Tripucka tossed 30 to Terry Brennan for a score.

Dick King's fumble was captured by Lancaster Smith on Washington's 36. Panelli banged 17 and Hart scooted the last 19 around end.

Jack Seth lost to Fred Wallner on Washington's 35. The Irish soaked up a five yard infraction then Tripucka connected for 40 to Hart.

At the close of the second period, Gordy Hanger's fumble was pounced on by Frank Gaul on the Washington 45. Brennan blasted eight yards before Tripucka passed 37 to Bill Wighkin for the fifth touchdown.

The Huskies made their best showing in the third period. At the outset, Notre Dame reserve sophomore Halfback Bill Gay carried the ball all five times in a 70 yard surge starting on his 26 yard runback of a punt. Gay eventually barreled over for one.

Washington, aided by Roland Kirby's 20 yard pitch to Jack Seth and Hanger's 18 yards in two carries, drilled to the Notre Dame eight. It was a 58 yard uprising in seven plays. But the Huskies were shoved back 22 yards in the next three attempts and the threat fizzled.

That was the second time in the entire game they penetrated beyond midfield. The Huskies reached the Irish 25 in the second period with the help of a 15 yard penalty but Kirby's pass was stolen by Smith.

Notre Dame's seventh touchdown came midway in the final period. Dick King's punt went out of bounds on the Washington 30 when Bob Lally, a second string Irish guard, partially blocked it. Substitute Jack Landry, then bolted the distance to score. Just prior to the touchdown, Gay's 50 yard romp supported a Notre Dame drive to the 15 before the Huskies checked.

Irish Make Husky Fumbles Pay Off In Touchdowns

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 27.—(AP)—The football was like a greased pig to the University of Washington today.

Notre Dame turned five fumbles by the Huskies into quick touchdowns during the first half to romp rodeo fashion to a 44-0 triumph.

It was the Irish's greatest winning margin in nine consecutive decisions this season and stretched their victory streak to a school record of 21. The game also was the 27th in which Notre Dame remained undefeated, including the scoreless tie with Army in 1946, to eclipse another mark which was hoisted in the Knute Rockne era.

Coach Frank Leahy employed a total of 43 players and six different ones crossed the goal line, End Leon Hart counting twice.

A crowd of 50,000—about 5,500 under capacity, ending a Notre Dame record of playing to sell-out throngs through 24 games—watched the Irish with awe as they piled up four touchdowns in the first quarter and one in each of the next three periods.

Frank Tripucka flipped three touchdowns passes, each stemming from recovered fumbles, in directing an aerial game that accounted for 107 yards on three out of five completions. Leahy, trying to hold down the score in this first of a two game series with the Seattle team, gave orders to throw no passes in the last half. Then the Irish's ground attack was uncorked, picking up most of the total 337 yards rushing.

Washington completed only eight of 24 passes for 65 yards and was checked for 45 yards on the ground. The loss was the Huskies' seventh in nine encounters this campaign, and their worst.

Here is the "fumblelist chart":
Ansel McCullough lost the ball to Captain Bill Fischer of Notre Dame on the Washington 24. John Panelli ripped 11 yards then sprinted the remaining 13 to score.

Brooks Biddle lost to Ed Hudak on the Huskies' 25 and after a five yard penalty Tripucka tossed 30 to Terry Brennan for a score.

Dick King's fumble was captured by Lancaster Smith on Washington's 36. Panelli banged 17 and Hart scooted the last 19 around end.

Jack Seth lost to Fred Wallner on Washington's 35. The Irish soaked up a five yard infraction then Tripucka connected for 40 to Hart.

At the close of the second period, Gordy Hanger's fumble was pounced on by Frank Gaul on the Washington 45. Brennan blasted eight yards before Tripucka passed 37 to Bill Wighkin for the fifth touchdown.

The Huskies made their best showing in the third period. At the outset, Notre Dame reserve sophomore Halfback Bill Gay carried the ball all five times in a 70 yard surge starting on his 26 yard runback of a punt. Gay eventually barreled over for one.

Washington, aided by Roland Kirby's 20 yard pitch to Jack Seth and Hanger's 18 yards in two carries, drilled to the Notre Dame eight. It was a 58 yard uprising in seven plays. But the Huskies were shoved back 22 yards in the next three attempts and the threat fizzled.
